AN IMPORTANT MEETING

Everyone Shoul Take and Intre: And Help in the Work.

ITS OUR DUTY TO DO SO

We Should Give Our, Chil ren Every Advantage. Increased School Facilities Must be Provided. It is Time to be up and Doing.

The Glendale High School district is confronted with a vital question at this time. The present facilities are absolutely inadequate and if the community is to maintain its position as a community of intelligent, progressive men and women some provision must be made to relieve the situation. No one who is in the least informed can deny that the need is pressing and imperative. As to what is best to be done may be, and very properly is, open to discussion, but that something must be done is evident to all.

In the Glendale High School district is comprised Tropico, Glendale, Eagle Rock, and La Crescenta. All of this territory is rapidly developing and there will be a number of additional High School students seeking admission at the beginning of the next session.

Some provision must be made to care for these students.

What shall we do? This question must be answered and answered at once.

Realizing this need the High School Directors have been giving the problem much thought and consideration during the last summer. They have what they think is the best plan. These men are good level-headed business men, and they have given of their time and their efforts in a desire to meet this problem in the best possible manner.

Last Wednesday evening a meeting was called at the High School building at which probably 75 or 100 perple were present. The school board first submitted their plans to some of the citizens who came first, and it was decided that before endorsing their plans a thorough investigation should be made, and in accordance with this decision the meeting organized by electing Colonel J. C. Thornton chairman and Dr. Bryant secretary. The chairman in a well delivered address, if impromptu, outlined the condition of the High School and stated the objects of the meeting. On motion a committee of three men, one each from Glendale, Tropico and Eagle Rock, namely, E. L. Young, Clyde Carmack, and C. S. Leppelman, were appointed by the chair to select a committee of thirty to investigate the plans as prepared by the school board and to report back at another meeting to be held Friday evening, June 6th.

The committee of three retired and selected the main committee and while they were out Mr. Norman S. Marsh gave an illustrated talk on the High Schools of Southern California. On the slide he showed the buildings and grounds and gave a brief description of the special features of the different schools in Southern California and the work being done by them. Mr. Marsh made the statement that only five per cent of the students of the High Schools ever entered universities or colleges. He resulted in 95% receiving their total schooling in the High Schools. For this reason he was strongly in favor of making the High Schools as practical as possible.

Mr. Marsh stated that the School buildings which he showed were to be the most complete School plant in the state. Riverside had two high schools, one for boys and one for girls, and there were more boys attending than girls. The tendency of educators was to be giving the students practical work so that when they left school they would be prepared to take up their life work. In Hollywood the school was designed and built by Mr. Marsh and Mr. Marsh stated that on account of the gas engine playing such a factor in present day life some of the schools were adding a course on gasoline engines and teaching the boys how to build and how to operate them.

At the end of Mr. Marsh's talk the committee reported that they were ready to submit the names selected by them for the approval of the committee.

From Eagle Rock, Mrs. Blanch Gardener, Mrs. Birdie Stanton, Col. J. E. Eddy, A. D. Hitchcock and Mrs. G. E. Candee.

From Tropico: Mr. Hartley Shaw, Irving H. Oliver, W. C. Wattles, Frank Davis, and Mrs. W. H. Berteaux.

From the Casa Verdugo section: E. J. Young, J. H. Horasta, Chas. H. Huey, Jos. Hawkins.

From Glendale: Will Anderson, John D. Pirtle, Mrs. P. S. McNutt, Mrs. R. W. Meeker, J. H. Badgett, Mrs. Dr. Jessie Russell, John Doyle, Mrs. R. F. Chase, Mattison B. Jones, Mrs. E. D. Yard, S. B. Stoddard, O. W. Tarr, Albert Cornwell, Mrs. Mary M. Gridley, Rev. Dr. Willis Ford, and C. F. Parker.

This committee met at fhe school house Tuesday evening and organized by electing Hartley Shaw, chairman. A general discussioh of the matter in hand resulted in the appointment of a committee of 3 to investigate the practicability of securing the block of ground just east of the present school grounds and to report back to the general committee next Tuesday evening.

The general committee will be unable to make a final report next Friday evening as anticipated and can only report as to progress made.

THE GLOOM DISPELLERS.

You, who are burdened with care, real and otherwise, listen:

The Gloom Dispellers got busy again Sunday with the result that some forty-odd citizens of Tropico (ordinately sedate and proper people) shook off the wrinkles of care, put on the wrinkles of dinners into Billy Weiblitz's auto truck and with Old Glory flung to the breeze, motored to Griffith Park. Get that? Motored!

At 12:30 they sat down to a meal of such generous proportions that there was a general loosening of belts. Words cannot describe that meal. We could rhapsodize over the beans and eulogize on the cake, but to do so would necessitate considerable space.

Gloom-chasing was the order of the day. They planted the Stars and Stripes on the summit of Big Rock; they revived the game of our grandfathers, horseshoe pitching; they played ball; they kodaked; they played jokes, and after inspecting the various wild animal enclosures and the denizens thereof they ate again. Yes, strange as it seems even to the participants, they ate again.

The ride homeward took them through the truly beautiful portions of the park where fleeting vistas of mountain and valley, bathed in the glory of the setting sun made indelible impressions on the mind and made one feel good just to be alive.

This was their second journey to Gloomless Land and there will very likely be others, but on this road of life, at best a rocky one, they will remember at least these two smooth places.

Here they are — forty-one — count 'em:

BEAUTIFUL SHOWERS.

It seems we are having an unusual amount of showers this spring. But can we have too much of any good thing. These dear girls who are near and dear to so many of us are leaving the homes of their parents to work out the problem of life for themselves.

They all seem to have chosen wisely and well. The last to be given was Wednesday, May 28, by Miss Alpha Clement and Mrs. Alfred Hezmalhalch at the home of the latter, 1433 West Seventh street, for Miss Michelle LeGrand who was made the bride of Mr. Leon A. Davis, with the firm of Crane & Co. of Los Angeles. The decroation scheme was very pretty being red and white. Red carnations and red hearts were in evidence everywhere.

An interesting game of life was played and seeking out the proper heart proved a genuine pleasure, and was won by Miss Ruth Brown. Then a game of letters which beckoned memories of friends, here or elsewhere, was enjoyed. An embroidery contest in household articles of linen for Miss LeGrand was won by Mrs. Edna Terr. Music and singing by all passed a pleasant time, never to be forgotten. Refreshments were served daintily in red and white colors.

Those having the pleasure of being present were Mesdames Pearl Livingston, Ray Goode, H. L. LeGrand, Edna Terr, Misses Francis Miller, Francis Jackson, Ruth Browne, Harriet Bayard, Maud East, Hazel Wheatley, George Duffet, Leta McCoy, Emily Ellias, Bernice Williams and Michelle LeGrand. The many beautiful gifts were opened by Miss LeGrand and were enjoyed and admired by the guests.

THE TRUSTEES' MEETING

Several Citizens Appear Before Board For Permits.

SIDEWALK MATTER

Taken Up Again and Brought to a Satisfactory End For Time Being. Budget Of Bills Paid and Vouchers Drawn For Regular Monthly Salaries

The Board of Trustees met in regular session Thursday evening in the council chambers at the city hall; all members were present. After the reading of the minutes of last meeting, the board took up the various matters coming up before them with that firm will and determination that so characterizes them.

Mr. Kopp appeared and asked for a permit to move a California house from Glendale avenue to a vacant lot on Tropico avenue. The request was referred to the committee of the whole and later the board, as this committee, refused to grant the permit on the ground that such a movement would not only be a detriment to the neighborhood, but also would not be in accordance with city ordinances that prohibit California houses within the fire zone.

Mr. Light asked for a permit to build a temporary cottage on the rear of his lot. This was also referred to the committee of the whole who later turned the application over to the building inspector for investigation and report.

The next in order was the resignation of Judge Melrose as recorder of the city of Tropico. This communication was laid on the table and a resolution read that had been prepared for the purpose of having a fixed salary, number of hours and duties of Judge Melrose as city recorder. This resolution was adopted, all voting aye.

Street Supt. Fisback asked that a culvert be built from Eulalia street across the Richardson tract in order to carry off the surplus water to the wash. The matter was held up until later.

The following bills having been approved by the finance committee were read and ordered paid, and the city clerk instructed to draw up vouchers for the same:

Geo. A. Dodson	$75.00
Jno. Hobbs	2.00
Leigh Bancroft	4.00
S. M. Street	50.00

This was also the "Ghost Walk" for all city officials and they received their vouchers for services rendered.

Mr. Wells of the Forest Lawn Cemetery company again appeared in person for a final adjustment of his application for a permit to build a sidewalk along Glendale avenue. He presented a map, for the inspection of the board, which showed conclusively the fact that one end of the arch projected out some six feet and would necessarily, in case the arch was allowed to remain, make a jog in the sidewalk. This would be a case of favoritism if allowed to be and would leave a loophole for others, besides the matter of street improvement makes this an impossibility if all things were to be done according to specifications.

It developed that when the arch was built no attempt was made to place the supporting columns according to the survey. This, however, was overruled by Mr. Wells on the grounds that the property had changed hands since its erection and they, the company, were in no way to blame, and that the matter of a jog in the sidewalk would in no way interfere with the appearance of the street or cause inconvenience to pedestrians.

After much talk on both sides it was finally decided that the board go into secret session at once and the matter, in justice to Mr. Wells as well as all concerned be settled for all time. Visitors retired and on recall Trustee Oliver presented a new proposition to Mr. Wells which was readily received. This was to the effect that Mr. Wells withdraw his application for sidewalk permit, and the board would advertise for street work to be done on Glendale avenue, proper grade established, and curbs and parking built, and allow Mr. Wells to put in a temporary path of decomposed rock and remove the surplus dirt to beautify his parking. This he promised to do at once.

City Clerk Street at this time turned over the books to his relief, Mr. Fishback, and bid the board au revoir for three months. The hour being late and no further business, the motion to adjourn was carried.

Contributions from readers are always welcome and very much appreciated.

There is something doing in Tropico these days. Every one is busy and every one is doing what they can to help each other and make Tropico the best place on earth.

Our country, 'tis of thee, sweet land of grape juicery.

James J. Hill's suggestion that congress ought to stand adjourned for ten years makes one wonder where the shoe is pinching Jimmy.

Some of the new paper currency will picture the face of a handsome young woman. Something must be done to make money popular.

It is nip and tuck in New York between the gangsters and the police. If they'd wipe each other out maybe the city would be better off.

A class of nine men at Cornell are taking a course in cooking. Nothing like being prepared for these suffragettes and other emergencies.

Coal prices have finally dropped, and it would be a mighty good time to lay in your next winter's supply if you didn't need the money for something else just now, which you do.

We haven't much of the navy in Pacific waters, but among the vessels that are here, is the Cruiser Maryland, whose men have just broken the record at target practice.

Don't shy off from those proposed school bonds before you know all the facts about the matter. You want good schools; you want your boys and your girls to have the best opportunities possible to fit them for future life. Look into the proposed plan to increase the efficiency of the Union High School and if you can present a better plan come forward and do so. If you cannot then take off your coat and work like the good fellow you are to carry out the plan submitted by the school trustees.

In raising the salary of Judge Melrose from $10 to $25 a month, or rather in accepting Judge Melrose's resignation, who was receiving $10 a month as Recorder of the city, and appointing Judge Melrose at a salary of $25 was a just recognition of a man's faithful work, and was a good business move on the part of the City Trustees. Judge Melrose could not afford to give the city much time at a salary of $10 a month, and for that reason the business connected with the Recorder's office was somewhat unsatisfactory to say the least. No regular hours were observed and for this reason a number of offenders against the peace and dignity of the city were allowed to go when by rights they should have been made to contribute. Under the present arrangement Judge Melrose is to be in the Recorder's office not less than three hours each day, and to have a regular time so all having business with the Recorder's office may know when and where to find him.

Work being carried on by the different committees working on the water question has developed the fact that if the contemplated plans can be carried out the plant can be purchased and paid for without increasing the tax rate one cent. In other words, it is believed by those having the matter in hand that the plant can be purchased, the necessary improvements to modernize and bring the system up to date be added and the revenue from the system will more than take care of all maintenance charges and pay interest and principal as the obligations come due. The Civic Club is giving much time and consideration to this important matter and they want the aid, advice and assistance of every man and woman in Tropico. It is not a question of what any man or set of men want, but what is the best plan to relieve our beautiful little city of the handicap of an inadequate water system. From some cause the present ownership is giving the city a very inferior service, and is subjecting the consumers to many petty annoyances and unnecessary expenses. The only practical plan so far presented is for the city to purchase the system and make the needed improvements. Don't stand back and knock, get in and help on this problem. The meetings of the Civic Club and the committees are open to you and at these meetings you will not only be allowed but welcomed. If you can't come tell any member of the Civic Club you meet your ideas? They will be given due consideration.

The agitation for a better rural credit system in America is no passing demand that will be superseded by something else next year. It is fundamental to a permanent system of agriculture. With an investment of over $40,000,000,000 in agriculture and an indebtedness of over $6,000,000,000, American farmers are beginning to awaken to the fact that they are paying from $100,000,000 to $125,000,000 more interest each year than would be necessary if they had their credit system properly organized. We talk about economy in marketing and distributing farm products. But where is there the opportunity to make the saving that there is in marketing farm securities? There is no better security than arable farm lands, but until the mortgages are converted into negotiable securities the farmer making a loan on his farm mortgage is handicapped just as much as a farmer a hundred miles from a shipping point is in marketing his wheat crop. He is too far from the market. It costs too much to get into the channels of trade.

LET US ALL HELP.

The world is full of joy and goodness and happiness, and all we have to do to bring these blessings into our lives is to open our hearts so they can come in.

If one should close their eyes, shut out the light and say the world is dark, they would be thought very foolish; and yet we do a more foolish thing when we close our hearts to love and sympathy and cheerfulness. O, there is so much goodness and happiness and brightness all around us. Why will mankind dwell in the darkness of greed, and suspicion, and hatred, and malice. Be kind and just, and charitable to your fellowman, for it is only by so doing that we can bring true and lasting happiness into our lives.

THE BOY SCOUT HIKE.

Last Saturday, May 31, the Tropico Boy Scouts went on a hike up the Los Angeles river. They started at about 8 a. m. On reaching the river bed they played a scout game. The second patrol being beaten 2-1 by the first patrol. In playing the game the patrol leader of the first patrol lost his hat which caused a delay till it was found.

In reaching the desired camp grounds they rested ten minutes before getting lunch. After lunch signaling was practised by some of the boys while others played duck on the rock and climbed or tried to climb a giant blackberry bush.

Later on in the afternoon most of the boys went on a little hike up the valley. On hearing gunshots the boys asked what it was and were told that it was the Universal Film Company doing some movie stunts. It was decided that they should climb the mountains and see them work or take the pictures.

On the way up the boys noticed many interesting birds, flowers and small animals. Reaching the top of the mountains they saw the soldiers or the would-be soldiers fighting a sham battle.

At first the soldiers did not notice the scouts but presently some whistled, tried to signal to them and "hollered" for the scouts to send them some signals with their flags.

A rapid succession of signals followed between the soldiers and scouts till they got tired of it.

Going back down the canyon the scouts reached camp about five or six o'clock.

After supper the scouts made their maps of the trip and told of the many things they saw through the day.

Before leaving the Scouts saluted the flag and after taps were sounded.

They reached Tropico about 8:35 p. m., just a little late for the picture show, but they got in.

On the evening of Decoration Day the Tropico and Glendale Scouts held a rally at Mrs. Berteaux' residence in Tropico.

They played many games and all enjoyed the evening very much. They also learned some Scout yells.

Before leaving taps were sounded and all left for home with a big three cheers for Mrs. Berteaux and a happy heart.

By the Secretary.

AN INTERESTING PLACE.

A number of readers of the Sentinel have been and are interested in this article pertaining to Miss Eulalia Richardson's trip which have appeared from time to time in the Sentinel.

This being the case I do not think some particulars about the places visited and mentioned by Miss Eula will be out of place. Benares, in India. This town is

One of the places visited was situated on the left bank of the Ganges, 400 miles northwest of Calcutta. The city is the chief seat of Brahmanical learning and is annually visited by swarms of pilgrims from all parts of Asia. Its narrow, tortuous, ill-kept streets are crowded with temples —Hindu and Buddhists.

It is to Hinduism what Lhasa is to the Northern Buddhist, and what Mecca is to the followers of Mohamed. It is the chief center of the worship of Shiva (Vishwanath) and one of the oldest universities the world possesses. The Lord Shiva is believed by Hindus to be the destroyer and rebuilder of various forms of life.

Benares is the center of wealth and commerce; it includes the manufacture of silk, cloth of gold, and gold filigree among its important industries. It has a large market for Manchester goods, and for the sugar, saltpeter and indigo produced in the surrounding country. Sikro, the European quarter, lies to the northwest of the native city. Here, among other public buildings, is a college established by the British government in 1791, for the study of Sanskrit.

The most sacred spot to the devout Hindu, is the Vishnu well on the Manikarnika Ghat, massive piers running out into the river enclose the great flight of steps, up and down which the faithful jostle and thrust from the river's edge to the topmost platform. The temple of Tarkeshwara stands at the head of the steps, and behind this is the sacred well. It is a railed-in tank, thirty-five feet square, with stone steps, leading down from every side to the water. Every pilgrim who visits Benares, flings his tribute into this well, offerings from the Bel tree, flowers, milk, sandalwood, sweetmeats, and the sacred water of the Ganges, are all cast by pious hands into this tank, already choked with rotten and putrid gifts. The water of this pool is never renewed except by the rain from heaven; evaporation slowly removes the water and leaves the stagnant filth. To bathe in that water means to the Hindu to obtain deliverance from all penalties, even for sins of the deepest die.

There are many legends connecting the Lord Vishnu with this well. One of them declares him to have dug it out himself with painful labor at a time of great drought, to give drink to the worshippers, and his sacred sweat filled it to the brim with a pearly flood. Between the well and the ghat is the Charana Paduca, a round slab of stone on which upon a pedestal are the imprints of two small feet in the marble. Here it is said the god alighted and marked the spot as holy, by the sign of his own imprints.

Few visitors to Benares fail to make a visit to the famous Burning Ghats by the side of the sacred river of the Ganges. There are few things that seem, on the face of them, to be more repulsive, in reality there are few that are more simple and more significant. The mortal remains of the dead, after having been baptized in the waters of the Ganges, are very tenderly placed on the prepared pyre. Two or three logs are then placed longitudinally upon the corpse so as to conceal the process of cremation from the eyes of the curious. This is then set alight by the nearest relation or friend. The flame soon spreads through the logs, and in about half an hour all is over, and from among the white charred ashes of the wood the cinders of what was once a human body are thrown into the river. The Hindus believe, by doing this, the spirit will attain certain peace.

A ROYAL TIME.

The third annual picnic of the Glendale and Tropico Masonic lodge was held in Griffith Park last Saturday afternoon and evening. About 150 members gathered at the hall in Glendale and at 2 p. m. left in autos for the park, where they were joined by a delegation from Los Angeles.

The first act upon the program was a ball game between the "leans and fats," with John A. Logan as captain of the leans. Mattison B. Jones acted as umpire. The game was full of thrills and spectacular plays.

After the game speeches and short talks were listened to from Mattison B. Jones, E. Spencer, inspector of this district; Jno. Hobbs, worshipful master, and ending by a talk by Senior Warden Sternberg, who outlined a project for building a Masonic hall at Glendale and appealed to the members at this time for subscriptions. This project met with instant approval and some $5000 was raised in a short time. The Los Angeles visitors contributed handsomely.

After the speeches some 250 sat down to a banquet that will be long remembered. The accommodations for cooking permitted something out of the ordinary for a picnic and instead of the usual cold lunch each diner was furnished with a broiled T-bone steak, new potatoes, green peas and all the fixings. From six until eight the men laughed, joked and ate, and then went home, voting the 1913 picnic a huge success.

This annual stag picnic has become a fixture now, but to make it all right with the ladies, a picnic for their benefit will be held later in the season.

TROPICO LADIES INVITED.

Mrs. L. M. Scott, who announced in a former issue the opening of a modern and sanitary hairdressing parlor in the Freimer building at Glendale, calls especial attention to the ladies of Tropico that she is prepared to do shampooing, manicuring and massage. She makes a specialty of scalp treatment ,and hair manufacturing.

Mrs. Scott has well-appointed apartments and has made many friends and supporters in the two cities during her short time in business.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Saturday afternoon, on our high school grounds, a baseball game was played between Glendale and Pasadena. This game caused a great deal of excitement on account of it being for the championship of Section C. The game was played eleven innings, to break the tie score of 6-6, which lead to a defeat for us by Pasadena scoring. This puts Glendale and Pasadena as two of the best teams in this league, as both teams have lost two games during the season, so next Saturday, June 7th, at the Alhambra high school grounds these two teams will play to see which proves the better, and the winner will play Long Beach for the championship of section B. Glendale high school has a fine chance to win, for the two games Glendale lost to Pasadena were on account of small errors, and some of their men being away.

A German play was given in the high school auditorium, Tuesday afternoon by the German classes under the direction of their teacher, Miss Darsey.

Prof. George Taylor took his chemistry class of the high school, Thursday morning, through the Berlin Dye Works, in Los Angeles. The process of cleaning and dyeing were explained to the pupils, which proved to be a trip of interest.

The Juniors will give a dance next Saturday evening in the K. of P. hall.

BAND ELECTS OFFICERS.

Some twenty members of the newly organized K. P. Band met last week to perfect the organization and elect officers. The following executives will bring the venture to a possibility:

A. J. McAdams, President.
Geo. Dodson, Vice President.
Geo. Howe, Secretary.
C. L. Laird, Treasurer.
H. L. McAdams, Business Manager.

With these men behind the wheel a course sure of success will be traveled.

Mrs. John Johnston, accompanied by her son and daughter, Edward and Nellie of Grand Rapids, Michigan, were the guests, Thursday, of Mrs. Scott, 315 Glendale avenue.

The Tropico Whist Club met at Mrs. Dr. E. F. Tholen's Tuesday.

The Thursday Afternoon Club will give a benefit performance at the Star Theatre on the evening of the 10th.

Mrs. Louise Purnell of 137 West Tenth street, expects to make a business trip to Illinois the later part of this week. Mrs. Purnell will probably be gone about a month.

W. E. Borthick and wife leave Thursday for a three months' visit in the east. The first stop will be Salt Lake City and then on to Kansas City, W. E's. old stamping ground.

W. E. Burk, Mrs. Burk and the children celebrated the holiday by taking an auto trip to San Diego, returning Sunday evening. Billie Burk says his "daddy" did pretty well, but that he got cross a time or two.

Dr. and Mrs. E. F. Tholen, who left about two weeks ago for a trip to the Yosemite and other points up the coast, returned last Saturday and report a most delightful trip.

Mr. A. B. Shephard, of Iowa, who has been visiting relatives in Tropico since last December returned home last week. Mrs. Shephard will remain some time longer with her daughter, Mrs. Dr. E. F. Tholen.

A large number of Tropico people were at Venice Friday where five torpedo-boat destroyers lay at anchor. They were on their way from San Diego to Mare Island. At twelve o'clock a salute was fired by 31 guns. The destroyers departed in the afternoon on the last lap.

During the band concert at Glendale last Thursday evening the new First National Bank threw open their doors to the public for inspection. All the officers were present to welcome the visitors and show them around. Everyone were presented with souvenirs and voted the new quarters fine.

Real estate operations were shown the past week on account of Decoration Day, but prospects are very favorable. One dealer in looking over his exchanges for the past two months discovered that over $45,000 worth of real estate changed hands through his office during that time. No need of worrying over the future of Tropico, eh?

The county superintendent of public instruction has invited all school trustees in the county to an all-day meeting at the Normal school building in the city on Saturday, May 7. The meeting will discuss school affairs in general with the object in view of bettering conditions in the county. It is expected that as many trustees as possible will be in attendance.

The Young People's Evangelical Leauge of Tropico and Glendale will give an entertainment, June 10, at the Filger Opera house for the benefit of the Christian Endeavor Society which is to meet tn Los Angeles, in July. The entertainment will consist of music, readings, addresses by noted speakers, and the Society hopes for a successful evening.

Myron Griswold left Tuesday evening for the central portion of the state for an indefinite stay. Mr. Griswold will represent the Jackson-Church Pump Works with headquarters at Tulare. For the last week Myron has been using his left hand to salute his friends. He refuses to divulge the reason for this change of custom, but rumor says he had a "set to" with an automobile crank and that the auto crank came out first best.

It is reported that last Sunday one of the school buildings in Los Angeles was kept open practically all day so that parents, both fathers and mothers, could visit the school and inspect the exhibit of the children's handiwork. Little by little people are waking up to the fact that our schools must devote their energies to practical efforts and anything that tends to encourage such should be commended.

The fixtures are now being installed in the new quarters of the Schilling Dry Goods Co., and everything tends to make this store very metropolitan. There will be an entrance on Brand and also on Broadway. Besides dry goods and notions an extra department will be added, as a complete stock of Gent's furnishings has arrived and as soon as possible will be placed on the shelves.

At the annual meeting of the Confederated Parent-Teachers' Association of Glendale, which includes all the Parent-Teachers' associations of that field, the following officers were elected: Mrs. J. F. Padieford, president; Mrs. Chas. Toll, vice president; Mrs. Daniel, secretary; Mrs. Clarence Newcomb, corresponding secretary; Mrs. McKee, treasurer, and Mrs. Edith M. Hunchberger, historian.

J. Locus, who recently purchased the interests of Mr. Goldberg in the tailoring establishment at 108 San Fernando road, announces in this issue the fact that he is here to stay and wants to prove his worthiness as a custom tailor to the people in this vicinity. Home trading is vital not only to the buyer but the seller. The buyer is looking for quantity as well as quality, and to the seller, especially one who is looking for return orders, strives to give just what he would ask in return—fair profits and continual respect. Mr. Locus deserves commendation and is worthy of consideration.

E. L. Young, the hustling man behind the Emporium, is developing into quite a "sign writer." Mr. Young is one of those men who want to know the whys and the wherefores of things. Some time back an agent came through Tropico selling fancy letters for signs. These attracted Mr. Young's attention and he sent for a sample and then proceeded to improve on same. Mr. Young has on exhibition at his store the result of his efforts and would be pleased to show any doubting Thomas and to convince him that Tropico can turn out just as nifty "Sign Letters" as any old town.

What have you done to make Tropico a better place to live in? If we were to start out on a picnic there's not one of us but what would do his level best to do our part to make the trip a success in every sense. Each of us who have cast our lot in Tropico have embarked on a trip—an important trip. Let each of us watch that we do our part on this trip. You are needed; your help is required, and none can do your work but yourself. Don't be a piker.

COME AND HAVE A GOOD TIME.

The Seventh Annual Meeting and Basket Picnic of the New Jersey Association of Southern California will be held at Sycamore Grove, Los Angeles, Saturday, June 7, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. Tables reserved for picnic near grand stand. Coffee for sale adjoining the grove. Addresses will be made by Rev. Charles H. Scott, Pasadena; I. X. Lynard, Esq., Los Angeles, beginning at 2 p. m., followed by reports and election of officers and roll call of counties.

SURPRISED THEIR FRIENDS

Great was the surprise when Mr. Harry LaFountain of West Acacia St., returned home from the Imperial Valley with a bride. As Mr. LaFountain is somewhat of a joker, it was some time before his friends could believe him; but 'tis true. The happy event took place at San Diego on the 23rd of May, and he and his bride walked in on their friends in Tropico the same night.

The bride is Miss Nellie Griffiths, one of Los Angeles' charming girls. She has a ranch in the Imperial Valley, and it is there that Mr. LaFountain met her. It seems that Mr. LaFountain went to the Imperial Valley for the purpose of buying land; but it is rumored that he gave the land market but little consideration. Mr. and Mrs. LaFountain left Friday for the Imperial Valley, where they will make their home, and where Mr. LaFountain will continue his business of auto repairing.

A CHANGE OF COLOR.

Harry Goldsmith, the general salesman of the Tropico Mercantile Co., is one of the thrifty witty Elks who will asisst in making merry with laughter his many friends who have promised to attend the Elks Minstrel Show to be held in Glendale high school June 19 and 20. Harry says "dare shure will be dat irresistable smile of laughter, friends—jest you come an try to pick dis coon out under da burnt cork covering."

WILL BE ENTERTAINED.

A number of the places to be visited by the Educational Touring Club, which sails from San Francisco July 1st and on which several Tropico and Los Angeles people are going, have made arrangements to entertain the club upon arrival of the party at the different places. Mr. Burke, the manager of the club, says that it is the intention to take along quite a lot of advertising matter from different California points which will be used to advertise California.

SEND IT IN.

If you have a bit of news, send it in;
Or a joke that will amuse, send it in;
A story that is true,
An incident that's new.
We want to hear from you. Send it in!

Never mind about your style—send it in!
If it's only worth while, send it in—
Of those crops that all amaze
Of the berries neighbors raise,
Of a section you would praise—send it in!

Of some patient labor done—send it in—
Of a fallen brother won—send it in—
Of a master who can teach
Truth beyond the average reach,
Of a noble, glowing speech, send it in!

—Burbank Review.

Give love and love to your life will flow
And strength in your utmost needs,
Have faith and a score of hearts will show
Their faith in your work and deeds.

A HAPPY, JOYOUS CROWD

Among the many happy parties that took advantage of last Friday's holiday none could have enjoyed themselves more than did the crowd of young people who visited Catalina, chaperoned by Mrs. E. W. Richardson and Mrs. Harry L. Edwards. Mrs. John Bloeser had kindly placed at Mrs. Richardson's disposal the comfortable Bloeser home at Avalon.

The Bar Z's and their friends were invited. Those who acepted the invitation were the Misses Mary Evans-Hough, Barbara Mitchell, Ruth Browne, Alpha Clements, Tom Thornton, Jim Gibson, Vernon Smiley, Will, Burt, Paul, and John Richardson and truly did the young folks enjoy every minute of their holiday.

Leaving Tropico Friday morning, the 11 o'clock boat from San Pedro was caught. The trip over from San Pedro to Avalon was indeed a thing of joy. The sea was like burnished silver, and the day one of those radiant, brilliant days that have heralded the glories of California to every clime. Catalina was at its best. The rugged rock-ribbed peaks, scared and seamed, proud head of some gigantic mountain of the deep, pierced the overhanging blue of the grandest ocean in all the world. The mountain sides were decked in wild cherry and laurel and elderberry, while the cozy little nook known as Avalon was all aflame with gorgeous verbenas, and Passion flowers, and the air made fragrant with the sweet breath of honeysuckle and lavender and heliotrope, and the shore washed by crystal limpid waters which beckoned to the swimmer and whispered of the exhilarating delights that nestle in its pulsating depths.

The crowd was taken in charge by Charley Paradis, that prince of boat captains, and if there was anything that "Charley," as every one in the crowd was calling him in ten minutes after he joined them, did not do to show all a good time, it was because there were not enough hours in the day and night to get it all in.

The motor boat ride Saturday night to see the flying fish by searchlight was a sight of a lifetime. From a fast running motor boat a strong searchlight was thrown on the water and the flying fish, by the million, would flash over the surface of the water, their black glistening bodies and gossamer-like wings sparkling and flashing like myriads of phosphorescent gleams. At times these fish blinded and frantic would dash at the boat, and several leaped aboard and were caught.

Paradis says that the prevalent idea that these fish actually fly is not correct. He says that the momentum for the leap is gained by a twisting twirling motion of the fish's tail and the wings act merely as sails. When the momentum of the first leap is lost it is necessary for the fish to strike the water so as to get another purchase for its tail.

The rambles over mountain trails, sails and swims brought forth a number of amusing incidents.

John Richardson proved himself the champion fisherman of the crowd, while Miss Mary Evans-Hough was the recipient of many presents of peanuts.

Altogether the young people had a trip that will remain long as a very pleasant memory. Paradis placed his staunch little boat, the Audrey N, at the service of the young people and acted as guide in showing the Seal Rocks, Moonstone Beach, Smuggler Caves, and a number of other interesting points on the island.

BONNET PARTY.

The home of Mrs. Frank McKenney was a scene of lively frivolity Thursday afternoon, when the ladies placed the paper bonnets they had made, after their own idea of reform in head dress, on their heads for inspection. The grand march was played and as many present were students of Mrs. Wayland Brown, grace culture instructor, there were fancy steps shown as well as fancy hats, as they marched by the judges.

Each lady was confident of securing the prizes. Imagine their feelings when a "foreigner" by the name of Mrs. Smith, carried away the first prize by one point above Mrs. Wesley Bullis, a resident.

Mrs. Frank Peters really won the booby prize, but as she was assisting hostess, she permitted it to go to Mrs. Harriette Becker, who is building a new home on the corner of Gardena and Central, where she will be only too glad to exhibit this fine and attractive bonnet.

The McKenney home throughout was lined with graceful bouquets of fragrance and beauty, from roses to pansy blossoms. The dainty salad served was made from pears, pineapple and cherries, donated by the Del Monte Canning Co. and presented by Mr. J. Herbert Smith, of the Tropico Mercantile Co.

Some of the best cakes were sampled and resampled and, oh my, the punch,—it was so good

Mrs. Edgar Fry and Mrs. Wayland Brown furnished an amusing but very interesting program of music and readings.

TRYING TO GET INTO MEXICO.

The following letter received by an estimable lady, resident of Tropico, from her married niece, shows in a striking and interesting manner the difficulty people are now having in reaching the different points in Mexico. The niece, whose name is withheld for the reason that she and her husband are well known in Mexico, left Tropico April 7th for one of the prominent mining camps of Mexico. This camp is located about 500 miles south of El Paso, Texas, on one of the main railroads of the country. The lady and her husband went from Tropico to El Paso, but were unable to obtain any means of transportation there. From El Paso they went to San Antonio, arriving there about the time the Carravanza revolution was at its height, and were unable to go in by Laredo. From San Antonio they went to New Orleans, and took a boat from New Orleans by the way of Havana and Progresso for Vera Cruz. Such a trip is about like going from Los Angeles to San Francisco by way of New York. The letter given below was written on the way from Havana to Progresso:

"We finally left for New Orleans, and were only there three hours before we took the boat "Chalmette" for Havana. This boat carried fifty-two firstclass passengers, and 'stacks of animals, cows, pigs, chickens, mules, etc., and is run by the Southern Pacific railway, and is a good example of railway monopoly. I thought we were all going to die. We had to go down the Mississippi about 100 miles before reaching the Gulf, and we passed a number of the historical sugar plantations. The river was almost over the levee, and men were patrolling the banks all along the way. When we struck the Gulf we got into a terific storm that lasted until we got into Havana. The boat fairly stood on ends at times, and the cabins were wet—and the smell of those animals was something terrible! Every soul on board with the exception of about four, were sick; I was frightfully so. The smell of those pigs nearly finished me. We were twenty-six hours late getting in, and when we reached Havana, we could hardly crawl off the boat; it was a pitifully looking crowd.

I think that such a railroad ought to be sued for sending us off on such a trip with a lot of animals. How those pigs did squeal! They never stopped. They never stopped. They were banged around, I tell you, and it was all so horrible!

The Havana harbor is about the most beautiful harbor I ever saw. The architecture of the houses of course is Spanish, and much more attractive than the Mexican style. The water is a Venetian blue, and so lovely. Havana is simply charming. We saw a lot of it although we were like dish rags nearly all the time. The people are very gay, none of the solemness of the Mexican; and the streets are crowded with laughing groups, and there are many bands and music and much doing all the time. I should have liked to have stayed. We were there three days. We went over to the old historical Morro Castle, and it is one of the most interesting places I ever visited. We left yesterday afternoon on the Morro Castle. This boat is a lovely boat, not very many on it, and the ocean is like a piece of glass, so thus far we are resting and trying to thoroughly recover from the effects of the other trip.

We hear all kinds of reports about Mexico, and also have been informed that it will be impossible for us to get north from the City of Mexico. Quien sabe? Poor old Mexico! The people are killing their country and cannot see it. This trip has cost a small fortune. If we ever get to....., we certainly will have to stay there for a while. It is rather pitiful to see the number of nice people traveling second class and trying to retrench in every way. They have been to many places trying to get into Mexico. This is the only possible route now open. I am taking a big basket of canned goods with me.

The Cubans are quite excited over the tariff on sugar. They say if the tariff is taken off, Cuba is ruined. Havana is so wonderfully artistic and interesting, but the people are robbers. I never heard of such prices—they even charge extra for bread and butter at meals—forty cents, gold, for one little piece of bread and a thin dab of butter. A five-dollar bill lasts about ten minutes. They argue they get you over there and you can't get out and have to eat. I went to the market and I never saw such abundance, nor such a display of beautiful eats in my life. We never saw any of it in the hotels, though.

Tomorrow we land at Progreso. I shall mail this from there.

A TROPICAN.

O, You Base Ball Fans

O! Play ball! Hit it out, you big slob' Second it! Get a four by ten for that fellow so that he can hit the ball! Home it! Rotten! Kill the umpire! Throw him out! Run, you son of a gun, run!

The Tropico Base Ball Club was only an idea a few months back; but it took roots, grew up, budded, and has blossomed out.
